A final appeal in being made to every person in Truckee and vicinity to collect and contribute their old scrap iron, rubber, burlap and other vital materials to the war effort. Collections are being made through the medium of the Truckee Lions Club which hopes at the same time to benefit the USO. Truckee has done well in the scrap drive. Probably no town of its size has done more, but we are still in possession of tons of vital metals which might well be turned into bombs, guns and tanks. Let's look upon every piece of srap as a potential hand grenade, gun or other weapon in the hands of our fighting men. It's a cinch that that old iron in your garage, attic or basement isn't going to kill a Jap where it is, but put it into the hands of our soldiers or sailors and rest assured that it will. Call Mr. Edmunds at 150 today and let him get your scrap into the scrap. Remember every ounce helps.

If you go hunting next Wednesday bear in mind that everything that moves is not a deer. Take two or three looks before you shoot and make sure. Much better never to get a deer than to shoot a fellow hunter.

A number of out of town papers have evidently gained the impression that fishing on the Truckee river has been ruined by high water. Take our word for it, the water has not varied to speak of for at least 60 days and the fishing has been excellent. It is true that we should have more fish in the river and we must raise and plant as we have in the past, but don't let it be said that fishing is poor when it is better than it has been for six years that we know of.

With 68 registered in the grammar school and 25, including 11 girls and 14 boys listed at the high school, classes were resumed in Truckee last week although the Labor Day and Admission Day holidays have prevented actual school work from starting.

The faculty at the high school is headed by Principal G. E. Hofmann and comprises Miss Marion Lothrop and Miss Anna Marie Munro, who were reemployed and J. E. Brandlin, who replaces Bernard Corrigan. He will teach English as well as manual training and physical education.

P. R. Nelson again has been retained as principal at the grammar school and Thomas Griffin on last year's faculty has been reemployed. Mrs Audrey Klaseen of Sacramento has replaced Mrs. Jennie Watkins and will teach the elementary grades. Mrs. Klaseen arrived last week with her daughter, who has registered in the high school.

Rationing Board Hears New Rules Concerning Tires

C. B. White, clerk, and F. W. Gaiennie, member of the Truckee War Price and Rationing Board last week attended a meeting of board members and state officials in Nevada City where they were addressed by Kenneth R. Lowell, tire executive officer in charge of rationing in northern California and Herbert Kendall, field executive.

That the rubber situation is not getting better was indicated in the high points of the address and in the answers to questions propounded by the board members.

Some of the points emphasised in the meeting were:

In order to qualify for tires you must be engaged in work vital to the war effort, the public health or safety.

Regardless of the state law, school busses would have to use retreaded tires.

Public officials who use their cars to travel to and from their offices or for personal use are no longer eligible for tires.

Parents of children who apply for tires to transport the children to meet school buses or to take the children to school are not eligible.

Those who have two automobiles must wear out the tires on both before they are eligible for tires and they must have the qualification as set forth in the regulations.

Pooling of trucks in rural areas to serve each other must be done and all cars of contonment workers who have been granted tires must be fully loaded.

The destruction of casings, or wilful abuse of rubber through overloading, carelessness or speeding is prohibited and punishable by disqualification for tires.

If one has a truck that has to be recapped and the owner cannot at the moment obtain a certificate, he should leave the truck idle until he does obtain one.

Many other drastic measures are in the making.

THREE INJURED AS BUS SKIDS ON ROAD

The driver and two passengers on a west bound Burlington bus were injured and a number of others were shaken up at 4 o'clock yesterday morning when the big vehicle skidded near Truckee and crashed into a bank.

The driver, Oscar D. Brown was reported to have received a broken leg andMrs. Celestine Pirrone of New Jersey and Mrs. Pearl DeLohch of Stockton suffered lesser injuries. The injured were treated here by Dr. J. H. Bernard.

TWO BOYS HELD ON CAR THEFT CHARGE

Two boys, Richard Cline, 14, and Darrell Stark, 16, both of Hayward, were apprehended here Tuesday by officers of the state highway patrol and admitted, according to Sergeant B. W. Reynolds, that they were driving a stolen car.

The car, registered to Allen A. Samuelson of Oakland, had not been reported stolen, but the boys are said to have told patrolmen that they stole it for a trip to Reno. They were en route home when nabbed and are being held pending action by the bay city officers.

PUNISHMENTS ARE GIVEN SMOKERS

During the past two weeks two punishments were meted out for smoking violations in the Truckee district of the Tahoe National Park, according to District Ranger H. I. Snider who took Gunther Schlesinger of San Francisco before Justice of the Peace Evelyn Bliss at Tahoe where a fine of $5 was levied. Schlesinger was arrested for smoking in a closed area near Brockway.

Two members of the military police Edmond Rosemont and Jack Barnhill were apprehended by Patrolman Anderson while throwing burning cigarettes from a moving automobile west of Truckee and their commanding officer allotted them two days of hard labor on a rock pile to give them time to think how to be careful with fire in the forest, Snider reported.

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

By PVT. DOUG BARRETT

Well, friends, this is me again, away off here in Utah.....Add to the "small war department": Ran into Joe Colla here at Kearns. He's a skiier from Placerville and former captain of the Sacramento Junior College ski team.....Also add to small war dept.: The chairman of the Utah State Democratic Central Committee is a gent by the name or Allen G. Thurman—all the same as our Republican State Assemblyman.

Speaking of politics, the California election was quite prominent in the Salt Lake newspapers, and quite gratifying to yens trooly. I played a long shot—and won.

My heartiest—if belated best wisnes are extended to my friends Mrs. "Pete" Petroni, Mrs. Henrietta Pearson, George Kamp, Mrs. Charles Pierce and my sis on their birthdays during the month just closed....Also to the grandest old folks I have ever known, Mr. and Mrs. Frank "Colonel" Powell, on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

I hear by the grapevine that Ray Saibini is going into the coast guard. While it can't compare with the army air corps, it is a darned valuable service to our nation and my hat is off to anyone volunteering for such duty.

Add coincidences: It was just 25 years ago this month that my dad was stationed in the army at Fort Douglas near here.

Well, well, Ralph B., why the extra shiner? Or are they coming without priority these days?

Also hear my Uncle Frank Barrett is back with his first love—the U. S. Marines, as a sergeant.

Personal note to Roy W. and Bob B.: I've got your beds warm, boys, so I'm expecting you soon.

Telephone Company Cuts Dividends For Period Just Closed

N. R. Powley, president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., announced following the meeting of the board of directors this week that a dividend of $1.50 per share was declared on the preferred stock payable October 15, 1942, to stockholders of record September 30, 1942, and a dividend of $1.25 per share was declared on the common stock payable September 30, 1942, to shareholders of record September 18, 1942.

"Confronted as we are with all the uncertainties in these critical days, it is, of course, most difficult to predict the trend of earnings." Powley said. "While the volume of telephone traffic is of record proportions, the resultant increased operating expenses, substantial additional carrying charges due to unprecedented construction expenditiures, increased labor costs and heavy increases in the forthcoming Federal taxes clearly indicated the necessity for the action taken by the directors in reducing the dividend on the common shares from $1.75 per share previously paid to $1.25 per share for the current quarter of the year."

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 10.— Reported in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital in Reno is Otto Rempfer, resident for some years past of the Lake Forest distirict. Forest Officals Make Tour Of District To Inspect Grazing Loss

Obtaining first hand information on how a high Sierra mountain range is being rejuvenated and made again possible to grow good forage, was the pleasure of Assistant Regional Forester Fred Grovemiller last week when he accompanied Supervisor G. E. Ellis, Associate Forester L. S. Smith and District Ranger H. I Snider on a pack trip over part of the ranges of the Truckee district of the Tahoe National Park, Snider reports.

Crovemiller has studied the history of grazing in California and believes that too great numbers of livestock and misuse of our mountain ranges began as early as 1890 and it is only within the past several years that the forest service has been able to successfully reduce stock numbers and adjust seasons of use so that the over-used forage is again beginning to have a chance to increase in density. Some of the soil in the past over-grazed areas has eroded so that the original plant density will never prevail, Snider reports.

15 of 26 Fires During Season In Truckee Area

The Tahoe National Forest has reported 26 fires have occurred within the forest area this year compared to 56 on the same date last year.

Of the fires this year 23 were confined to less than a quarter of an acre and three burned less than half an acre, but more than a quarter of an acre. The Downieville ranger has not reported a fire this year. Fifteen fires, mostly caused by lightning were reported in the Truckee area.

With most of the coast ranges closed to hunters and with an abundance of deer reported in this district, prospects are more than customarily bright for the opening of the season next Wednesday morning.

From Tahoe comes word that more deer have been seen in that area recently than for years past and local experts declare the herd in the Truckee area is abundant.

Hunters are being warned of the dangers of fire if the season continues dry and are asked to be especially watchful with their shooting as more hunters than usual are expected to frequent the region, with many novices.

LIONS HEAR TALKS ON FLOWERS, BONDS WITH ILLUSTRATION

Through the courtesy of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. W. M. Englehart, Jr., last night exhibited two entertaining and timely pictures before the Truckee Lions Club. The first was a third in series of illustrated lectures entitled "Home and Flowers" by Laura Lee Burroughts and like the two previous features showed a number of novel and artistic ways of displaying flowers. Each member was given a book by the same title showing the arrangements.

The second film and lecture was entitled "Free America Way" and was an impressive feature designed to show the advantage of buying war bonds and stamps, Comparisons were drawn between the free American way of doing things and the way things are done in total governments.

Plans were made for Charter Night celebration October 3 at Capitol Hall when District Governor and Mrs. Harold Briggs of Sacramento will be honored guests. W. M. Englehart, Sr. is chairman of the committee. Carl Smith of San Franicsco was a visitor last night.

Last Week Of Scrap Drive Is Fixed By Club

September 14 to 19 Fixed As Dates For Junk Rally Here

The week of September 14 to 19 has been fixed as the time for the final "junk rally" in Truckee by the Truckee Lions Club which is sponsoring the drive here as a benefit for the United Service Organizations.

C. Edmunds, chairman of the committee asks that extra effort be put into the task during the coming week so that all available junk can be put into the war effort and so that the amount pledged to the USO can be raised.

Edmunds urges that housewives again go through the attics, basements, garages and sheds and accumulate every item of scrap that can be spared. Put it all together in an accessible spot and telephone him at 150. A truck will call and pick it up for addition to the growing pile of salvage materials.

One car of scrap iron has already been shipped and a second is being accumulated. The pile is in the S. P. yards near the depot and anyone who wishes may contribute their scrap materials there.

Old stoves, beds, irons, springs and a thousand other discarded items are probably deposited around the average home where they serve no purpose, Edmunds pointed out. It is vital that every ounce of scrap material, not alone iron and steel but rubber, old burlap bags and other needs as well, be gathered immediately and put to use if we want to hasten the end of the war.

If everyone adopts a patriotic attitude Truckee can ship another car of scrap next week, but if we each say "what's the use" then we are failing in our duty as Americans.

Sheriff's Son Shows Rapid Improvement

Entirely out of danger and making a strong recovery during which he recognizes and talks with his nurses and some firends, Billy Tobiassen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tobiassen looks forward to the time when he will be able to be up and around again. SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

HOW FRIENDS CAN HELP

Have you ever discovered how helpful friends can be in straightening out problems with your children? Take the 'teen-ager who won't keep herself presentable. She is scornful of the least touch of makeup, and mussy hair and droopy clothes seem to satisfy her. Of course, sometimes girls go through these stages of carelessness because they are honestly so intent on becoming a second Mme. Curie or Florence Nightingale that thought of clothes and appearance seems to them in their young earnestness a very trivial thing. Other girls may be so disappointed at this age with the kind of face or hair nature gave them that they pretend to have no interest in looks and try to be as sloppy as possible.

Now here's where your friend steps in! Choose the one who is the most attractive and well groomed, provided she is also a nice person—but she would have to be that to be your friend, for vain, shallow women rarely have genuine friendships. Take this friend into your confidence and together you can arrange a luncheon downtown with your daughter. Make it casual—you might better appear to run into her by accident. Ask her to wear her trimmest clothes and her very nicest perfume—young girls admire an older woman who has a delicate scent because they themselves can't wear perfume without feeling self-conscious. Now no matter how un-dressed-up your daughter may be at the moment your friend will make a casual but complimentary remark about her eyes, or her facial expression or the texture of her skin or hair—even nice eyebrows or dainty ears can rouse a girl's pride in her appearance if they are admired by someone whose taste is superior.

This is just a beginning, of course. If the two don't hit it off try the plan with another friend. But if your daughter shows a spark of liking and admiration for your friend, then go on to further meetings. Have your friend drop in for a cup of tea about the time daughter is due from school. What you are trying to do, of course, is encourage a friendship between your daughter and this older woman. (They may have known each other for years, but on the plane of child and adult.)

Friendship blooms slowly so don't expect miracles at once. When your daughter's confidence has been won, this friend who is clever about clothes and hair and grooming can begin to make suggestions to the girl about her appearance—suggestions she might ignore if you made them.

This same method often works in reverse—that is, if your daughter is too much taken up with her looks and neglects her brain try to foster a friendship with a woman who is both nice looking and intelligent, preferably one with an interesting career to her credit.

Not only will your daughter benefit but friends who have no daughters of their own will cherish an opportunity to have a hand in helping a young girl acquire the charm and poise of womanhood.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

COCA-COLA has that extra something that rates with youth. That's why Coca-Cola—a long-established product—belongs to the younger set year after year. Choicest, special ingredients and special care in its making, give Coca-Cola a special refreshing taste and quality.

This unique taste comes from a finished art in its making . . . a blend of flavor-essences merging the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a taste all its own. It leaves an after-sense of refreshment that everybody recognizes.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing . . . the real thing . . . "a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

"Let's go see if the Coke's in", and off they troop to enjoy youth's ritual of refreshment . . . a custom particularly "special" in these war days when there's less Coca-Cola.

The best is always the better buy!

WAR NEWS

There are very few people in this country who really have any idea what is happening in this war.

The "extra" stories in daily newspapers and the "flashes" over the radio, give us one-sentence news stories on events which warrant a bookful of news.

The army and navy consider it necessary to withhold any information which the enemy might not have, but it is hard to understand why the people of this country should not be given the news of things which the enemy must certainly know.

When our troops first attacked the Solomon islands, the Japanese must have known, just as well as our officers, which side was winning and just how great a victory it was, but the one-sentence news stories left all of us in a position only to guess at what actually had happened.

We are all in favor of withholding any information which may be of possible benefit to the enemy, but the intelligent American public is annoyed over efforts to withhold information which is common knowledge to the enemy. We want to know as much as do the Germans and Japs—not their public but their officers—as to what is going on in this war.

THE MOVIES' WAR JOB

When the first bombs fell on England, the authorities decided immediately to close all places where people congregated in large groups. One of the first actions was to close all moving picture theaters.

But that didn't last long. There was so much public anger, including rioting in front of theaters, that within 72 hours after the movies were ordered closed they were all told to open up again. Ever since then every moving picture theater has continued to be open.

Motion pictures have proved to be one of the best nerve sedatives in England. Because production of pictures in England has fallen way off, there is an increasing demand for American movies. If you want to see the latest hit, the chances are these days that you might see it in London before you could see it in New York.

The movies in this country are already offering relief from the news of the war. Let us hope that, for the sake of both the British and ourselves, the movie industry will this year plan the best picture fare they have ever offered—pictures which will act as a strong buffer against war nerves.

INTERESTING FIGURES SHOW INCOME AND EXPENDITURES FOR LAKE TAHOE SCHOOLS

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 10.— H. E. Chastain, district superintendent of Placer Union High School and Orrin Lowell, newly elected trustee of the high school board from Auburn visited with Mrs. Northie Pomin and members of the local board here on Friday, Augnst 30. Mrs. Pomin left with Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, high school teacher, some interseting figures and facts which should be on considerable interest to local residents and taxpayers, figures which have not before been made public here.

The state of California allows for the maintenance of a four-year high school ..... $ 3,200
Av. Dly. Att. 19 at $82 per stu.. 1,558
Total $4,758
District Taxation $15,491
Total $20,249

Assessed valuation of Tahoe Lake and King's Elementary school districts $3,098,258 at 50c per hundred assessed valuation.

Costs for 1941-42

Salaries	$ 4,640.00
Supplies	242.41
Bus Service	700.00
Rent from Elementary Dist.	1,000.00
Equipment	134.00
Total	$ 6,738.41

The difference between these two leaves $13,510.59 which is retained to support the main high school at Auburn. From the school tax of 50 cents, .07 centns is expended on the Tahoe Lake branch of the Placer Union High School.

Since this branch was established 28 students have graduated. Of these 22 have successfully undertaken college work or advanced training as follows: five have entered Junior College (ont will enter at the end of this year), five went to University of California, three to University of Nevada, one to Mills College, one to St. Mary's, four to various trade schools, three to business college, one will enter a state college this fall.

Other students who have attended three years or more have ultimately gone as follows: five to U. of N., two to U. of C., one to junior college, one to Univesity of Washington and one to a state college. The majority of these students, to say nothing of the scores who have attended for less than three years, would have been unable to attend high school at all without serious handicap. The community has come to look upon its schools as a positive asset and it is not likely to emand less from tehm in the future. In fact in 1936, the school services were so highly regarded that the board allowed a secaond teacher at thetime the enrollment totalled only 17.

Tahoe Briefs

The level of the lake Monday morning stood at 6228.21 with 452 CSF of water leaving the dam gates. Tahoe mornings continue cool with the coldest weather todate being recorded on August 28 when the thermometer stood at 35.

Norman Mayfield reports that between 27 and 28 tons of scrap iron are now on hand at the old Southern Pacific depot in town, with a number of additional tons still in sight but not collected. DEER REPORTED VERY PLENTIFUL IN TAHOE AREA

TAHOE CITY, Sep. 10.— Tahoe hunters are elated to the nth degree this week as information available assures this district of the usual deer hunting. Deer have been seen frequently in these parts all summer although most of them apepar to be does and fawn. More bucks have been seen during the past week in this area, according to report, than in all the previous summer season. We have an idea that with meat prices what they are few local bucks will escape extermination this year.

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

LIKE "winning a letter", keeping out in front of the others takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it,—in taste... in quality... in refreshment.

The finished art that comes from 57 years of practice goes into the making of Coca-Cola. A special blend of flavor-essences merges all the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a unique, original taste of its own.

There are many ways to quench thirst, but only Coca-Cola refreshes like Coca-Cola.

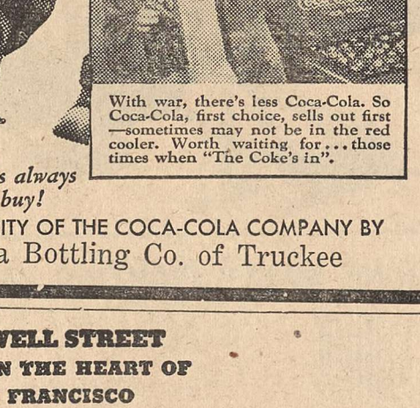
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Coca-Cola and Coke mean the same thing ...the real thing..."a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community".



With war, there's less Coca-Cola. So Coca-Cola, first choice, sells out first—sometimes may not be in the red cooler. Worth waiting for... those times when "The Coke's in".

MAKE THE MOST OF TODAY

How much are you going to get out of today? I know of not many sentences of ten words that are of more importance to you.

Are you letting your days slip by without getting much out of them? Are you making the most of the precious, golden hours which will never come back? John Ruskin, the English writer, used to keep a piece of marble on his desk which had one of the finest and most significant mottoes in the world carved on it. Just one word—TODAY. Every time he looked up he saw, chiseled in everlasting stone, a reminder of how precious today is. Doctor Johnson—the famous "Doctor Johnson" of England—had a reminder written on the face of his watch so that every time he looked at his watch he would see it, "The night cometh," it said. And old Doctor Johnson so lived that he made the most out of every fleeting moment, and when night did come he had accomplished so much that his name lives on and on.

Marcus Aurelius, one of the greatest men who ever lived, had his existence on this earth 150 years before the birth of Christ. A mighty warrior; he flung the boundaries of the Roman empire where they had never been before. He lived as busy a life as a person could well live, but he managed to toss off a book that still goes marching on. In it he said: "Don't conduct your life as if you were going to live forever."

The important thing is to get something worth while out of today, no matter how busy you are. How about reading? Do you read something worth while every day?

When the first Bull Moose convention was in session in Chicago, bands were playing beneath the window of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, and people were surging through the streets shouting, "Hooray for Teddy. We want Teddy!" Amidst all the shouting and tumult, Teddy Roosevelt sat in a rocking chair in his hotel, reading a book by Herodotus, the Greek historian.

A few years ago a friend of mine was visiting a business man in Detroit who asked him, "Would you like to meet Henry Ford?" That afternoon they drove to Ford's factory and Henry Ford got in the car with them and they started for an adjoining town to attend a meeting of a hospital board. On the way they passed through a stretch of woods. Ford leaned out of the car and said, "Listen, do you hear that? Stop a minute!" The driver thought something was wrong with the car. Without another word, Ford got out, walked a short distance into the woods and stood gazing up at a tree. Presently the other two men joined him and they found that Henry Ford was listening to the song of a bird—the song of a brown thrush. "Isn't it beautiful," Ford exclaimed, "that's the first one I've heard this season."

We can all get something out of Today. Remember, it will never come back.

Fancy breads and rolls always are greeted with cheers wherever they appear, so the homemaker who keeps her bread box well filled may rest in the assurance of being prepared for impromptu snacks.

Quick breads and refrigerator rolls come in the category of short-cuts because they are definitely labor-saving foods, easy to make and giving a large return for the time and effort spent in making them.

Whenever breadstuffs are to take an important part in meals it's essential to keep in mind their food value. All breads are energy foods because their chief ingredient —flour—is of high caloric value. Modern "enriched" flours furnish added vitamins and minerals, while the quick breads made with eggs, molasses and dried fruits contain many valuable food elements.

A raisin or a nut bread made with molasses takes care of the sweet problem, too, so these breads are worth serving on many counts.

Raisin Bread.

Three-fourths cup of raisins, 1 cup hot water, 1 egg, 4 tablespoons granulated sugar, ½ cup molasses, 1½ teaspoons soda, 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon.

Seed and chop raisins and simmer in water until tender. Beat egg with sugar and molasses. Dissolve soda in two tablespoons water from raisins. Mix and sift flour, salt and cinnamon. Combine all ingredients and turn into an oiled and floured loaf pan. Bake fifty minutes in moderately slow oven (350 degrees F.)

Steamed Boston Brown Bread.

Two cups sour milk, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup rye flour, 1 cup graham flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda.

Dissolve soda in sour milk. Add with molasses to dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Turn into well oiled molds, cover and steam three hours. Pound baking powder cans make good molds. Fill molds not more than two-thirds full.

California Health Bread.

One cup whole wheat flour, 2 cups bran, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk, ½ cup dark molasses, ½ cup nut meats, ½ cup seeded and chopped raisins, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt.

Add soda to milk and stir into dry ingredients. Mix well and turn into a well oiled loaf pan. Bake one hour in a slow oven (325 degrees F.)

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.— (UP)— California politicians are turning from post-primary autopsies to the important question of selecting party chairmen following state party conventions in Sacramento this week.

All qualified parties are entitled to hold their state conventions in the captial September 17. On the following day state party central committees will choose state chairmen.

The retiring state chairmen are Republican State Senator Thomas Kuchel of Orange County, who is on active duty with the navy, and William M. Malone of San Francisco. When he relinquishes the state Democratic chairmanship, Malone is expected to be a candidate to continue as head of the party committee in his home community.

The Democratic chairmanship automatically goes to southern California this year. Republicans will choose their leared from the counties north of the Tehachapi. By law, the posts alternate north and south.

More thean a dozen persons have been mentioned as possible Democratic appointees. High on the list are Manchester Boddy, Los Angeles newspaper publsiher, and Claude Welch, chairman of the Los Angeles Democratic Central Committee.

Another prominent Democrat, Herbert Legg, former Los Angeles supervisor and candidate for governor at the 1838 Democratic primary, has squelshed a boom in his behalf for the chairmanship. He is active in the south in the campaign to reelect Gov. Culbert Olson and let it be known that he will not seek the chairmanship.

But there are other names which have been mentioned as possibilities.

Among theme are Lieutenant Gov. Ellis E. Patterson, nominee for reelection; Robert W. Kenny, nominee for attorney general; Walter Ballou, a member of the governor's Los Angeles secretarial staff; Samuel W. Yorty, former assemblyman and Cecil King retiring assemblyman and congressman elect.

Also mentioned are Jack Massion, assemblyman nominated for reelection; John B. Elliot, party veteran and former senatorial candidate; J. Frank Burke, radio station owner; John B. Dockweiler, Los Angeles county district attornew and in 1938 a gubernatorial aspirant and Jack B. Tenny, Los Angeles county senator elect.

Thomas A. Carlson of Richmond, Ray Williamson, fromer assemblyman from San Francisco, Attorney Bartley Crum and Robert Miller Green, former assemblyman and now San Francisco supervisor, are among the mentioned.

The Orange sounty superior court is to be the testing ground of the Communist issue for the second time. Lee C. Deming of Buena Park, who instituted action for America's Sixth Column, Inc., in an effort to keep the Communist Party off the ballot in 1940, heads the new attack of the party's right to the franchise.

Co-plaintiffs in the action to bar the party's candidates from the November ballot are Henry M. Mingay, Los Angeles Civil War veteran and Walter J. Hasse, past commander of a Los Angeles American Legion post.

Superior Judge Franklin G. West issued a temporary retraining order against Secretary of State Paul Peek and the Communist candidates who are deefndants in the action. Sept. 10 was set as date of a hearing for Peek to show cause why he should not be enjoined from canvassing the primary election vote for the Communist defendants, from certifying their nomination and from causing their names to be printed on the November ballot.

An alternate writ of mandate, returnable September 18, ordering the secretary of state to show cause on the same questions, also was issued by the court.

An affidavit by Aattorney William J. Ring of Los Angeles, accompanying the petition, charged the Communists and fellow travelers worked largely through the Democratic party.

The petition conterding that the Communist party was subversive and advocates overthrow of the national and state governments, reviewed previous litigation on the subject and pointed out that the issue has been adjudicated.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS WILL BE TRAINER BY U. S.

CHICO FIELD, Sept. 10.— Establishment of office candidate schools to train soldiers to become administrative officers has been announced by the War Department.

Branches of the school, which will be operated under the direction of the adjutant general of the army, will be located at civilian educational institutions. Classes of approximately 450 candidates will be enrolled biweekly after September 15.

Soldiers who meet physical requirements for limited service only and who meet other requirements for selection will be given preference for enrollment over applicants who are physically qualified for general service. With the exception of the removal of the emphasis on leadership, the qualifications are similar to those curernlly prescribed for applicants for other officer candidate schools.

Those who complete the school courese successfully will be commissioned second lieutenants in the army of the United States.

MACHINE BAN IN COUNTY AS ARMY MAKES REQUEST

GRASS VALLEY, Sept. 10.— Visible cooperation of local businessmen with the United States Army and city "clamp down" on those activities considered inimical to the best interests and welfare of the Army personnel, who expect to enjoy the hospitality and friendship of the community, took the form of removal of high-priced, electric light-gadgeted slot machines and some of the older models, popularly known as "one-armed bandits."

These were removed by trucks to depositories of safe keeping.

Slot machines, boards and other gambling devices were ordered removed from the city of Grass Valley and the county of Nevada by city and county attorneys at a general meeting of Army officers and representatives of the Nevada county liquor industry.

Less visible but none the less effective cooperation with the United States Army was pledged by liquor dealers on the points which the army had asked for civic interest and assistance, namely: no sales of hard or spirits liquor to members of the armed services except between the hours of 6 and 10 p. m.; no sales of liquors of any kind including beer to servicemen under the influence of liquor, Indians, minors or service men on duty; servicemen in transportation vehicles.

Theory behind the complete statement of policy and cooperation is that the city can benefit materially and financially through expenditure of soldiers here if conditions are maintained as outlined. Otherwise, establishments which violate the code will be declared out of bounds and can forfeit their licenses or in case of city-wide noncompliance the entire community can be declared out of limits and forbidden to men in uniform.

SLEEPING SOLDIER ENJOYS LEAVE BUT GETS WRONG LIFT

CHICO FIELD, Sept. 10.— A soldier from this field recently went on a pass to Sacramento. Upon his arrival there he "took in" the town, spending most of his time walking around the city and dancing.

With his pass running out and dead tired, the soldier walked out to the highway back to Chico to hitch hike a ride. A friendly motorist stopped and offered him a lift.

"Going to the field, soldier?" he asked.

"Sure, thanks," repiled the soldier, climbing in. He promptly fell asleep.

Later he was awakened by the driver shaking him and saying, "Here you are, soldier."

Drowisly the young private walked over to the gate and produced his pass.

Two minutes later he was back on the road looking for a ride. The friendly driver had taken him to McClellan Field just outside Sacramento and he was still a hundred miles from the Chico Army Flying school!

The Farm to the Rescue

It is estimated that about 13,000,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on Cologne and Essen in the two big raids made by the Royal Air force. Half of this tonnage would be steel and half of the steel would be made from "scrap." Or in other words about 3,250,000 pounds—1,265 tons—of scrap were dumped on the factories of Cologne and Essen in just two big air raids.

These figures give us a rough glimpse of what we are going to need in scrap-iron and scrap-steel to win the war. Every pound which each one of us can dig up is going to be needed. We have got to have a stock pile of millions of tons in reserve. We can't just keep doling it out to the factories day by day hoping that the salvage collections will keep up with their daily needs. If we handled it in this manner factory after factory would have to close down because they had run short of material temporarily and had to wait for their allotment. This would be the way to lose the war.

Over and above the terrific load which has been placed upon the industries is a new job which they have taken on voluntarily and in a spirit of patriotism of which Americans can be proud. Volunteer committees of business executives are already operating in over 400 industrial centers in a tremendous drive to salvage every ounce of useful material which the factories can spare. Obsolete machinery, tools, stocks and dies, fixtures, etc., are being gathered for the national scrap heap. Stuff which "may come in handy some day" is going in with the rest of it. "Some day" must take care of itself—"today" is the all important moment!

But the industries can't do it all—they haven't got the amount of scrap we must have to win this war. The six million farms in the United States must do the rest—and they will do it and are doing it. In small towns and big towns, all over the country, scrap committees are being formed. Towns, counties and states are running an imaginary race to outstrip their rivals. It should be made a real race with public honors to those who lead.

But it takes the individual farmer to make the town scrap heap. If he puts his contribution off week after week—the scrap heap won't grow. If he thinks "it may come in useful some day"—we may lose the war some day. Every piece of useful material which we own but which we can do without at this time should go toward victory. If we put all the money we can possibly spare in savings banks and war bonds we can buy new and better things when the war is won. And won it will be—if we do our full share; if every farmer throws something on the town scrap heap every Saturday when he comes to town; if every town forms a committee to push the drive and keep it going and if we "do it now" and keep on doing it.

Our county war board or farm implement dealer—can advise us how to start a town scrap heap and how to sell it. The proceeds can go to some Town Institution or Charity. If no one knows what to do to get started—write The Conservation Division, War Production Board, Railroad Retirement Building, Washington, D. C., for advice.
